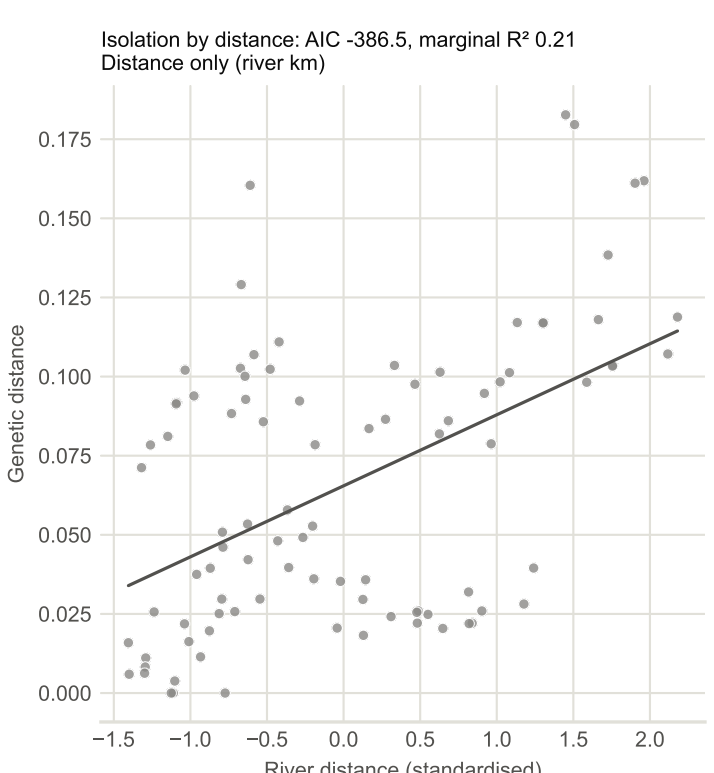
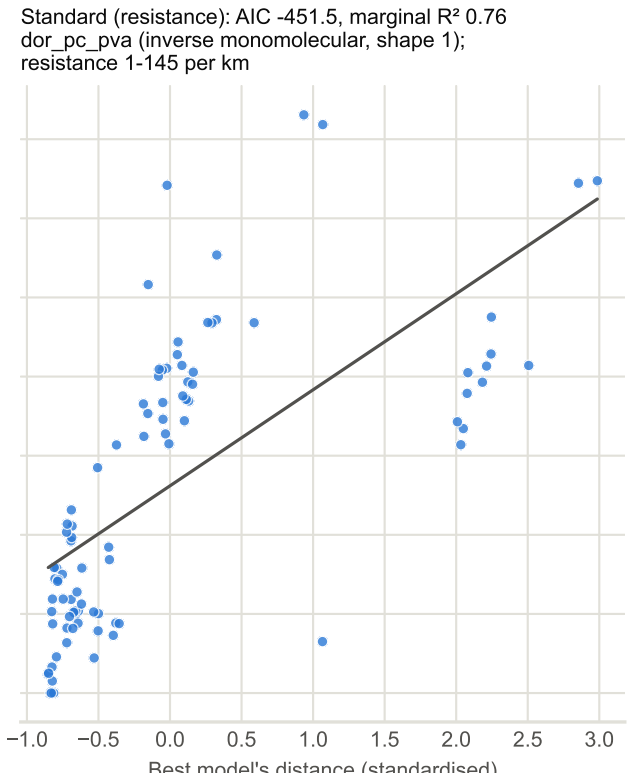
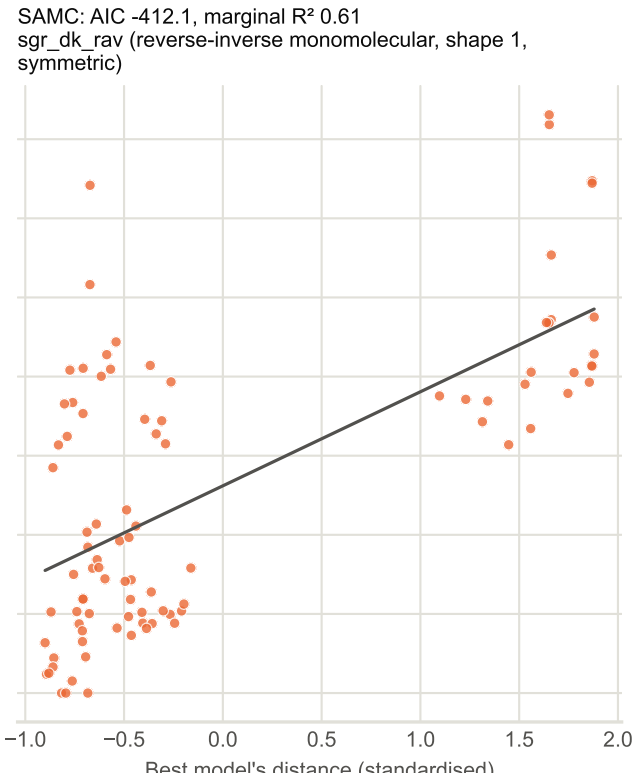
Genetic distance against river distance and each family's best model







Each point is a pair of sites. Lines are least-squares fits, for display: the models are fitted with MLPE (population effects).